They Had Him to Lunch and Set Before Him Soup and Salmon Which He Praised -Same Food Soldiers Get Which He Told Committee Was "Rotten."

WASHINGTON, May 13 .- George G. Boardman, a Kansas soldier recently returned from the Philippines, was made the victim to-day of a practical joke planned by Senator Dietrich of Nebraska, and executed by him with the assistance of Senator Beveridge of Indiana, which had a very disastrous effect upon Mr. Boardman's value as a witness as to conditions in the Philip-

Last week Boardman testified before the Philippines Committee, having been summoned by Senator Lodge, the chairman, as a witness for the majority. He gave some testimony more or less important to the effect that the American army in the Philippines is all right and that the only cruelties he had seen practiced were committed by natives, generally upon some of their own associates.

To-day Boardman was called as a witness by the minority and as soon as he opened his mouth it was discovered that a great change had come over the spirit of his dreams during the few days' interval To-day he could think of nothing bad enough to say about the policy of the Government in the Philippines and the conduct of the American army. Everything was bad, he said, and nothing quite so bad as the way the soldier boys were treated by their superior officers and by the Government at Washington.

The Filipino prisoners, he said, were treated better than the soldier boys, and becoming warmed up on the wrongs the private soldiers were subjected to, he threw on the committee table two battered tin cans. They were samples, he said, of the kind of stuff that the United States soldiers were forced to eat in the Philip-pine army. One can, he said, contained salmon and the other soup tablets.

salmon and the other soup tablets.

All of it was, in Boardman's opinion, unfit to be eaten, and he said the soldiers revolted at it. The salmon was rotten, he said, although the can was hermetically sealed, and he wanted to know why it was the Government fed such stuff to its soldiers.

The Indiana Senator stated that when he had charges to make he would make them direct and not by insinuations, and peace was restored before the committee ad-

Then it was that Senator Dietrich, who is a member of the committee, got in his little joke. He said to Boardman that he would like to talk with him informally about matters in the Philippines, and asked if he would not take lunch with him and Senator Beveridge in the Senate restaurant. The Kansas sodier was tickled almost The Kansas soldier was tickled almost to death and promptly accepted the invi-

A delicious soup was served, afterward A delicious soup was served, afterward a salmon salad, and Boardman could hardly find fitting words in which to express his admiration for the fine quality of both. He was particularly enthusiastic in his praise of the salmon salad. It reminded him strongly of the kind the Government tried to make the soldiers eat in the Philippines—because it was so different. The soup was properly seasoned, he said, and just the thing that would put vim into a soldier if he could get it out in the Philippines, where the boys had to eat canned slop.

At the conclusion of the luncheon Boardman again expressed his appreciation of the bill of fare, and Senator Dietrich told him, with a twinkle in his eye, that he was Being questioned as to the general treatment of peaceful Filipinos by the American officers and soldiers, the witness said:

"The whole tendency of the army was to make the men anything but pleasant toward the natives, because every soldier realized that war is hell, and they were going to give the Filipinos hell. Our orders were to treat them kindly; but an officer will not object if a man is hungry to his going into a house and getting foed."

Witness—I do not wish to involve any of my comrades. There is a great feeling among the men against the officers because the men believe that the officers are parties to the prolongation of the struggle. The soldiers do not like Gov. NAVAL BILL IN THE HOUSE. Its Consideration Will Take Several Days -Committee Assignments.

WASHINGTON, May 13 .- The House entered upon the consideration of the Naval Appropriation bill to-day and heard the speeches of Mr. Foss (Rep., Ill.), chairman of the Committee on Naval Affairs, and of Mr. Rixey (Dem., Va.) of the same committee. It is likely that the bill will be before the House for the rest of the week.

The conference report upon the omnibus claims bill was rejected by the House upon a point of order, for the reason that the conferees had included three ciaims which had not been considered by either the Senate or the House. A further conference was requested and the House conferees were instructed to insist upon their disagreement to the Senate amendment providing for the payment of what are known as the Selfridge Board claims.

LESSLER SUCCEEDS CUMMINGS On House Naval Affairs Committee - Demo eratic Row to No Purpose. WASHINGTON, May 13 .- Speaker Henderson to-day appointed Representative Montague Lessler to be a member of the Committee on Naval Affairs in place of the late Amos J. Cummings. This puts an end to the contest between Representatives Belmont and Fitzgerald for the place. Mr. Lessler received a double honor to-day, he being asked to preside over the House during roll call. He bore himself with great credit as presiding officer.

Lewis Nixon, the temporary head of Tammany Hall, seems to have taken it for granted that because Mr. Cummings was a Tammany man his successor would be appointed from the Representatives of that organization in the House, and at the Cummings funeral he made his wish known to several of the New York delegation that O. H. P. Belmont should receive the place.

To his surprise he found that Representative Fitzgerald of Brooklyn, who had for a long time kept an eye upon the Naval Committee, had been before him and nearly all the members of the New York delegation had signed a request to the Speaker that Fitzgerald be appointed.

Mr. Cramer of New York also wished the place and secured the indersement of Representative Sulzer. Consequently, there was no one left to indorse Mr. Belmont at Mr. Nixon's request, except Reprecentatives Fitzgerald and Cramer, both of them candidates. The fact was overlooked that the Naval Committee is the only committee of the House which had seven Democrate and only ten Republicans. Hereafter the committee will stand eleven Republicans and six Democrats.

Mr. Lessler's appointment will doubtless be of material assistance to him in his next campaign.

CRUMPACKER PLAN GOES OVER Investigation of Abridgment of the Right of Suffrage Is Postponed.

WASHINGTON, May 13 .- Although no formal announcement has been made, it has been practically decided that the Crumpacker resolution for the investigation of the abridgment of the right of suffrage shall go over until the next session of Congress, and some notice to this effect is likely o be given this week.

While the Republican caucus favored he resolution and the Committee on Rules has agreed to report a rule for its consideration, there is considerable opposition to the measure in the House among the Republicans and there are a number who would prefer that nothing should be done unless the investigation is to be followed by other action in case the Constitutional provisions are found to have been violated. A poll of the House practically demonstrated that at this session the resolution could not be adopted, but its friends hope that next winter, after the elections are out of the way, it will go through.

TO REVIEW RATHBONE'S CASE.

CUBA'S LAW OF CRIMINAL PRO-CEDURE TO BE AMENDED

so as to Permit the Supreme Court of the Island to Review the Trial -Roosevelt Does Not Pass on Merits of Case, Nor Does Root Review Testimony.

WASHINGTON, May 13 .- The President has authorized Gen. Wood at Havana to amend the law of criminal procedure in Cuba so as to permit the Supreme Court of the island to review the trial of Major Rathbone. This, it is explained by officials here, does not mean the granting of a new trial to Major Rathbone.

The President does not pass upon the merits of the case nor does Secretary Root review the testimony. This is left to the Supreme Court of Cuba, which could not, under the present law, review the case.

from the island. As the Constitution has not yet been promulgated the amendment authorized by the President will continue operative after May 20. Secretary Root operative after May 20. Secretary Root has written Gen. Wood the following letter:

Counsel for Defendant Rathbone in the Post Office cases has presented to the Presidental application for an order by the President directing a new trial of his client's case upon a number of grounds, some relating to the procedure followed, and some relating to the merits of the case. As a reason for urging action by the President he alleges, among other things, that the jurisdiction of the Suprems Court on appeal is so limited that they will be unable to afford relief upon the grounds on which he relies, and that upon the 20th of May, when the military government terminates, his client will be left without any redress under the laws of Cuba. It has been found impossible as yet to give the full consideration required by the arguments prese ted, but in view of the fact that the Constitution of Cuba, about to take effect, will exclude the President of Cuba from the power to pardon 'public officers who have been convicted of crimes committed in the performance of their duties,' the President deems it desirable that no doubt should be left of the power of the Supreme Court to review convictions in such cases upon all questions affecting the defendant's substantial rights.

It is the general rule in this country that a defendant in a criminal case shall have at least one full review of all such questions by an impartial tribunal other than the trial court, and that practice should be embodied in the law of Cuba before we leave the island, particularly in view of the fact that citizens of the United States may be left there subject to convictions as to which no such review has been had, and as to which there may exist no cardoning power.

You will accordingly promulgate an amendment of the law of criminal procedure, substantially in accordance with the draft herewith the lease of providing for a full review by the Supreme Court in such cases of all questions of law, fact and procedure, and authorizing in broad terms such judgment by t has written Gen. Wood the following letter:

The amendment is as follows:

The law of criminal procedure is hereby mended by adding after Article A the folamended by adding after Article A the fol-lowing:
Upen an appeal to the Supreme Court from the judgment and sentence of a court, on conviction of a public officer for a crime committed in the perfermance of his duties, the Supreme Court shall have jurisdiction to review all questions of fact, law and pro-cedure arising upon the testimony, record and proceedings, and to either affirm the sentence, dismiss the proceeding, award a new trial or make such other judgment or order as substantial justice shall require; and the Supreme Court may, upon such hearing, take any additional evidence which is deems necessary in the interest of justice. This provision shall apply to all appeals now pending or hereafter taken.

THE PIANOLA

Is an Absolute Necessity to the Proper Equipment of the Summer Home.

DARKNESS and rain, though they may interrupt outdoor sport, lose their power to curtail enjoyment where the Pianola is available; for golf or driving is replaced by dancing or song or brilliantly played opera, and the hours move as swiftly as when the

Mechanical only to the point of correctly playing the notes (thus making musical training unnecessary), the Pianola yet allows, through its three sensitive expression-controlling lavers, full freedom to each individual player for the expression of his own musical ideas and

And it is this quality in the Pianola that has commended it to such musicians as Paderewski, Rosenthal, Moszkowski, Sauer, Hofmann, Bauer, Slivinski, De Pachmann, Dohnany, and many others, and caused them to endorse it and use it in their own homes.

Thousands of Pianolas are already in use in every corner of the fashionable summer world, and this season the interest in this resourceful entertainer is even greater than at any time in its history.

You should surely investigate the merits of an instrument so universally popular.

The price of the Fishola is $250. May be purchased by moderate monthly payments if desired. Visitors welcome.

PAPERINTHE MONEY ENVELOPE.

Two Illinois Young Men Buncoed Before Their European Trip Began. Eric Young and Lawrence Gresel, two young men of Springfield, Ill., planned to sail for Europe on the St. Paul to-day. They met at their hotel last night two men who described themselves as Messrs. Jones and Robinson of Schoharie, N. Y., also bound for Europe on the same ship.

The four took a walk through Battery Park, where Jones and Robinson proposed that they pool their cash so that it might be safer. They produced an envelope filled with bills and proposed that Young and Gresel place their money in it and that Young should keep it. Young put $375 and Gresel $200 in the envelope. Mr. Jones sealed the envelope and gave it to Young. Jones went to telephone to a friend and was away so long that Robinson went to look for him. After waiting an hour Young and Gresel opened the envelope and found it filled with tissue paper. Then they told their story to the police.

NATURE'S METHOD CURING DYSPEPSIA

Nature's only method of curing dyspensia is to heal the diseased parts. When the stomach and bowels are healthy they work unconsciously and thoroughly, every atom of food is digested and assimilated, the blood en-riched, the muscles strengthened and whole body in a vigorous condition. When these organs are diseased, digestion is imperfect, the blood impovershed and filled with impurities, the liver, nerves and kidneys become deranged and the whole body is sick. To try and rectify this condition by decomposing the food with drugs and digestive ferments is not only absurd, but exceedingly dangerous. There nothing known in the science of medicine that can take the place of the human stomach. Drugs do not and cannot digest food, they only decompose it, and while this process relieves the patient for the time, decomposed food contains none of those elements which go to make pure blood, strong muscles, steady nerves and a healthy body. In fact, no person ever died from dyspepsia whose death cannot be traced to the debilitating effects of drugs and digestive ferments used in treating the disease. MI-O-NA is the only remedy yet known to medicine which does not act on the food at all, but directly upon the digestive organs themselves. This vegetable used daily by the natives of Hawaii (where dyspepsia is unknown) is nature's own cure for diseased digestive organs. It allays all irritation, removes inflammation, healt the sore spots and makes these organs perform the work of digestion per-

Just one small tablet before meals and on retiring and the most confirmed dyspeptic will soon be able to cat anything fit for human food without the MI-O-NA is sold by
